World Book Day celebrations are going to be a little bit different to usual this year but it will still be just as fun!

To celebrate the day, we have organised some fun activities to do as a whole school. Your teachers will also be sending out more fun activities to complete on World Book Day (4th March 2021).

This year, we are thrilled to present our curated flagship digital events, to really bring stories to life in the classroom and beyond! There's plenty of opportunity for interactive learning and exciting discussions about books between children.

Featuring a variety of our multi-talented £1 authors and illustrators, the events include drawing, story challenges, fun activities, Q&As and more, to be enjoyed during World Book Day week and all year round.

The Programme

We hope that you'll join these events in the classroom, at home and beyond at worldbookday.com/events - you'll be able to submit reader questions before each event and watch them in World Book Day week or after the listed date.

To find out more, submit questions and keep up-to-date with the programme, please go to: worldbookday.com/events

From the 3rd of March, 'Share A Story' goes live. Tune in to join in the fun. Check which day is suitable for your age and enjoy!
